

READER 1: Once upon a time an old magician decided to work some kitchen magic. He said,

2/MAGICIAN: "Hey! Hey!
I'll fill my belly
With muffins of
Peanut butter and

ALL: JELLY!"

READER 3: The old magician placed his magical top hat upon the kitchen counter.

READER 4: Then he threw flour, sugar, baking powder, eggs, and buttermilk into the hat.

READER 5: Next the old magician searched through his kitchen cupboards and found a jar of chunky peanut butter and a jar of his favorite fruit jelly.

READER 6: These too he threw into the hat, lids and all!

READER 7: Finally the old magician picked up his magic wand, waved it grandly over the top hat, and chanted again,

2/MAGICIAN: "Hey! Hey!
I'll fill my belly
With muffins of
Peanut butter and

- ALL: JELLY!"
- READER 8: All at once there was a mixing and a mashing, a twirling and a thrashing.
- READER 1: The top hat disappeared in a puff of smoke and reappeared inside the old magician's oven.
- READER 2: Two seconds later, the oven door popped open and two red hot roly poly peanut butter and jelly muffins jumped out of the hat.
- READER 3: They didn't even stop to say hello. They rolled across the kitchen floor and out the door before the old magician could say,
- 2/MAGICIAN: "Hey! Hey!"
- READER 4: The old magician ran after them. He wanted to eat those muffins! But the muffins just laughed and called out,
- 5/MUFFIN: "Na Na Na-na-na
Can't catch us!
- 6/MUFFIN: You can run until you drop
Or run until we holler
- 5,6/MUFFINS: Stop!"
- READER 7: And at the sound of the word stop,
